

“

Children are the future; education provides the foundation for the future we want

”

DR. KAREN HILTZ

IS THE CURRENT EDUCATION SYSTEM FAILING YOUR CHILD?

- ▶ Does your child hate school?
- ▶ Are they bullied and picked on?
- ▶ Are you a frustrated parent and tired of no one listening?

Dr. Hiltz shares her knowledge and experience with parents, churches, and organizations re: education alternatives. She helps empower others and tells why information is essential to sound decision-making. This former public school board member truly understands your frustrations.

Dr. Karen Hiltz's book is a must read for those parents seeking alternative education and financial help for their children. It is also worthwhile for political thought and direction in supporting those educational alternatives.

Wm. N. Roethlisberger, Former School Administrator, CA and VA

The Case for Choice One-Size-Fits-All:

An Outdated Education Model for the 21st Century

This book shares 12 personal stories related to various education environments. It reflects the individuality of each one of us and a One-Size-Fits-All model is not what children in our nation need to thrive as we move forward into the 21st century. We need a populous that is able to think, create, operate with integrity, and lead us to a brighter, more equitable economic republic.

Dr. Hiltz is an engaging speaker who understands the dilemmas parents face when their struggling child is trapped within the bureaucratic public education system. As a thought leader, she has pursued meaningful changes to help children within their learning environment. As an author, the stories shared empower, inform, and give courage to those in fear and without hope, but reminds us there is hope in every situation. The nugget simply needs to be uncovered. An advocate for school choice and life-long learner, her articles have appeared in various publications to include her Facebook page: The Apple Report.

The knowledge and experience she's gained as a Navy Veteran, Business Professional, Professor of Business, elected public school board member and serving on various boards has provided her with unique skill sets to enable her to help families navigate the education bureaucracy.

Dr. Hiltz holds a BA and MBA in Business and Ed.D in Leadership Studies.